Nirmata Holdings

One chess engine. Three games on the same board.

ATOM · AntimatterAI · ANS · PhysioPS / HumanOS

One chess engine. Three games.

Nirmata Holdings is structured as a holding company because three game-clocks are different. ATOM is the cash engine. AntimatterAI is the moat. ANS is the long position. PhysioPS is the vertical that validates clinical-grade reasoning. The structure itself is the moat — compounding capital allocation under unified judgment.

Revenue is fragmented.

The average enterprise sales organization runs 12 disconnected tools — a CRM, a dialer, a sequencer, an enrichment vendor, an intelligence layer, a chat platform, a deal desk, a forecasting tool, a coaching tool, a content library, a meeting recorder, and a conversation-intelligence retrofit. Each one charges per seat. Each one captures fragments. None of them close.

ATOM — The Revenue AI Operating System

Five composable layers. One outcome-priced contract. TARGET → ENGAGE → CLOSE. Replaces the 12-tool stack with a Revenue OS that bills on the outcomes the customer actually wants: pipeline, meetings, and deal closure.

AntimatterAI Core — The Multi-Modal Platform

The agentic operating layer of the modern enterprise. Not a chatbot. Not a tool. The infrastructure that makes AI think, act, and govern itself. Comp set trades at 150–350× ARR.

01 Founder-Led TOFU	Ben, Joel, Josh personally drive enterprise deals through Q4 2026
02 Outcome-Priced Land+Expand	Price on pipeline / meetings / closure; escalate commitment
03 Red Team Compliance Wedge	Enter regulated industries via ATOM Red Team; expand to full stack
04 Sovereign-AI / ANS	Position ANS for nation-state and regulated infrastructure customers
05 PhysioPS Clinical Vertical	F1, veterans, aerotoxicity, RPM clinical partnerships

The Founder Board

FOUNDER	ROLE	MANDATE
Ben O'Leary	Co-Founder & Chief Quantum Officer	Vision, architecture, ethics. Sets long-arc AntimatterAI thesis and governance posture
Joel Bedard	Co-Founder & Chief Philosophy & Innovation Officer	Savant-tier polymath. Cross-product synthesis; agritech, philosophy, systems theory
Josh Mellott	Co-Founder & Chief Revenue Officer	von Clausewitz of startup sales. Owns GTM, founder-led TOFU, outcome pricing

$25–50M	$150–250M	Y3 2028	25–35×
SERIES A RAISE	PRE-MONEY	UNICORN THRESHOLD	ARR EXIT MULTIPLE

WHY THE PRICING IS DEFENSIBLE

(1) Multi-product holding — Series A median is single-product. (2) Early ARR traction at 83% software-trio GM. (3) Comp set at 150–350× ARR (Sierra, Cognition, Harvey). (4) A 25–35× exit at Y3 implies the Series A is conservative on option value.

SLIDE 21 / ALLOCATION

Use of Funds

BUCKET	%	PURPOSE
ATOM GTM — sales + AE hiring	32%	Repeatable enterprise motion
AntimatterAI engineering	22%	Reasoning graph, governance overlay
ANS infrastructure	18%	Akamai + Blackwell capacity, edge buildout
PhysioPS clinical + hardware	10%	Trials, certification, F1 / veteran rollouts
Marketing + brand	8%	Demand gen, content engine, analyst relations
G&A; + finance + legal	6%	Institutional reporting, audit-defensible metrics
Reserve	4%	Strategic optionality

Honest Counter-Arguments

"Three games is one too many."

Shared infra, models, judgment. If wrong, collapse to ATOM-only without losing credibility.

"AI-SDR is crowded. 11x burned investors."

We report TCV + contracted ARR with cohort data. The bar is higher — favors disciplined operators.

"$150–250M pre-money is premium."

1.8×–3× median. Defended on multi-product holding, early ARR, comp set at 150–350× ARR.

"Why doesn't OpenAI eat this?"

We sell workflows, compliance, reporting, outcome accountability — not raw inference.

Templeton–Class Operator DNA

PROFILE	WHAT THEY UNLOCK
BlackRock-class allocator	Sovereign-AI / regulated-industry distribution
Templeton-class operator	DigitalOcean-level GTM discipline; infra-first thinking
Benchmark-class lead	Single-partner conviction; long-duration board craft
a16z-class platform	GTM scale, brand, recruiting, regulatory access
Sequoia / Founders Fund	Network effects; patient capital; downstream rounds
Strategic LP (sovereign)	Multi-year ANS infrastructure mandates
